2.2 Appointment

07/22

2.2.1 Following the annual general meeting each year, ANZCA Council will appoint the chairs and members of committees and subcommittees (hereafter “committees”) and other role holders for a minimum term of one year, and no more than two years at a time, to fulfil college functions. Exceptions are outlined in this regulation and regulations 3 and 16, with some appointments made either by other groups in accordance with ANZCA Council delegations.

2.2.2 Other ANZCA Council appointments, elected on an annual basis, include:

2.2.2.1 The president

2.2.2.2 The vice president

2.2.2.3 The chair of examinations who is responsible to ANZCA Council for the governance of the primary and final examinations within the ANZCA vocational training program, and

2.2.2.4 The honorary treasurer whose portfolio is particularly focused on college finances, including investments, noting that all directors have a fiduciary duty in relation to college finances, and that day-to-day financial management is undertaken by the management senior leadership team in accordance with ANZCA Council delegations.

2.2.3 The president is an ex officio voting member of all college committees and contributes to each quorum. The president may, at their discretion, delegate their role on any committee to the vice president.

2.2.4 Most committees will include at least one councillor. The role of councillors will include providing guidance to committees on the college’s purpose and strategic plan.

- 2.2.5 Committees may co-opt members to fill a vacancy within the designated membership of the committee, and they have full voting rights and contribute to the quorum.
- 2.2.6 ANZCA Council may appoint additional members to any committee as required to fulfil college functions.
- 2.2.7 Ex officio chairs and members will change when the position-holder officially changes.
- 2.2.8 Apart from ex officio appointments and other exceptions outlined in this regulation, the maximum duration which may be served by any individual on a specific committee is 12 years, unless otherwise approved by the council. Ex officio appointments do not contribute to the 12-year maximum.
- 2.2.9 Committee membership should be inclusive and reflect the diversity of the college wherever possible. This can be achieved by expressions of interest and using a diversity matrix that addresses the needs of the committee.

2.3 Roles of committees

- 2.3.1 ANZCA Council develops and periodically reviews terms of reference, including delegations, for all committees and role holders. These should be consulted for purpose, delegations and process. Where the terms of reference conflict with the ANZCA constitution or regulations, the constitution and then the regulations take precedence.
- 2.3.2 “Oversee” or “providing oversight” of subcommittees means to ensure that activities of the subcommittees are consistent with college strategy and policies and the subcommittees’ terms of reference. Committees should provide advice to their subcommittees as appropriate.

2.4 Quorum and decision-making

- 2.4.1 A quorum for each committee is a majority of voting members. For committees with an even number of voting members, this is half plus one. If at any time the number of members is less than a quorum, a committee may meet only for discussion purposes.
- 2.4.2 Questions arising at meetings of committees (either in person or virtually) are decided by a majority of votes of voting members present and voting, with abstentions not being counted in the total number of votes. The chair has a casting vote in addition to a deliberative vote where there is an equality of votes. For an electronic vote, questions are decided in the affirmative if at least 75 per cent of all voting members (other than any member on a leave of absence or any member abstaining in writing) vote in favour.
- 2.4.3 Unless otherwise specified, all committee members are voting members.
- 2.4.4 Committee chairs may invite visitors to committee meetings to contribute information that supports committee roles, or to observe the activity of the committee, provided there is budgetary provision (which should be checked with the relevant committee support officer). They are invited as ‘advisory members’ if invited to provide expertise or advice to the committee, or ‘observers’ if they are there to view committee deliberations; they are non-voting and do not contribute to the quorum.

2.5 Confidentiality

- 2.5.1 All proceedings and reports of ANZCA Council and its committees, subcommittees and working groups are confidential and privileged.
- 2.5.2 Reports of the business of ANZCA Council and its committee, subcommittee and working groups are published at the discretion of ANZCA Council led by the president.

2.6 Conduct of members

- 2.6.1 Committee chairs and members are expected to declare relevant interests which are handled in accordance with ANZCA policies on conflicts of interest.
- 2.6.2 Committee chairs and members are expected to act in accordance with ANZCA policies on discrimination, bullying and harassment.

2.7 Removal of committee chairs and members

2.7.1 The process for suspending and removing office holders and committee representatives is pursuant to the ANZCA constitution and regulation 28.

2.8.1 All members are ex officio.

2.8.2 Membership will consist of the president as chair, the vice president as deputy chair, the chief executive officer, the executive director of professional affairs, and the dean of the Faculty of Pain Medicine. Councillors with particular portfolios may be invited to attend ANZCA Executive Committee meetings at the invitation of the president. The CEO may also recommend to the president that other staff members attend meetings for relevant matters.

2.8.3 The committee reports to ANZCA Council. Its purpose, in accordance with its terms of reference, is to assist the president and chief executive officer in dealing with matters which arise between council meetings and carry forward to council matters that are in need of council consideration, action or ratification. Substantive decisions on these matters must be reported to the ANZCA Council at its next meeting and, unless the council decides otherwise, the noting of such reports in the council minutes will constitute ratification.

2.8.4 The committee will also provide advice to ANZCA Council following periodic review of the Constitution to facilitate any changes in college policy and activities.

2.8.5 The committee is delegated the power by ANZCA Council to approve admission to fellowship by completion of the ANZCA vocational training program and by assessment (regulation 6).
