

2023 FPM SYMPOSIUM MOVING FORWARD

FPM

Faculty of Pain Medicine
ANZCA

5 MAY 2023 | ICC SYDNEY | #FPM23SYD

*Times are listed in AEST

7-8.30am	Optional workshop FPM01 Management of acute severe behavioural disturbance Facilitator: Dr Stephanie Oak Note: places are limited
From 8am	Registration
8.45-10.30am	Session one: Societal issues	Chair: Associate Professor Kok Eng Khor
	Welcome
	What do pain patients want from a pain consultation?	Associate Professor Michael Vagg
	Advocacy for better provision of pain care and services: an update in NSW	Ms Susan Rogers
	Burnout in Pain Physicians: Causes, Consequences, and Cures	Associate Professor Claire Ashton-James
	Live Q&A and panel discussion
10.30-11am	Morning tea
11am-12.30pm	Session two: Neuromodulation	Chair: Associate Professor Charles Brooker
	Rethinking neuromodulation for chronic back pain	Dr James Yu
	Advances in neuromodulation techniques for chronic headaches	Dr Jim O'Callaghan
	Controversies and the true cost of neuromodulation in pain management	Dr Renata Bazina
	Live Q&A and panel discussion
12.30-1.30pm	Lunch
1.30-3pm	Session three: Urogenital pain syndromes	Chair: Dr Jason Chow
	The unique urogenital pain syndrome: similar but so different to other pain	Professor Curtis Nickel
	Pathophysiology of urogenital pain and translation into clinical practice	Professor Thierry Vancaillie
	Multidisciplinary management of chronic urogenital pain	Professor Amanda C de C Williams
	Live Q&A and panel discussion
3-3.30pm	Afternoon tea
3.30-5pm	Session four: Patient outcomes – measuring, achieving, reporting	Chair: Dr Candice Wallman
	Measuring pain outcomes in ePOCC	Dr David Holloway
	Evolution of contemporary pain management programs	Dr Jane Wheatley
	Writing medical reports - to referrers, insurers and as independent assessors	Dr David Gorman
	Live Q&A and panel discussion
5-5.10pm	Closing comments
7pm	Cocktail Reception at Blue Eye Dragon Restaurant	