Anaesthesia and
having a baby –

You're in safe hands

Should you require pain relief or anaesthesia during the course of your pregnancy an anaesthetist will be able to take care of you and your unborn baby.

DAY 2021
18 OCTOBER

Anaesthesia and
having a baby –

You're in safe hands

An anaesthetist will usually be available as part of your hospital birthing team, working with your midwives and obstetrician, in case you need help with your pain or require a caesarean delivery.
